DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chadwick et al. Chadwick et al. shows a chair (20,22), comprising: a base assembly (45); a seat (20) supported by the base assembly; a pair of uprights (40,52,53) connected to said base assembly and extending upwardly above said seat; a pair of armrests (58) each including a mount sleeve (76) selectively positionable along a respective upright; and a backrest (22) disposed between the uprights and including a pair of opposite mount sleeves (51) selectively positionable along the uprights, the mount sleeves of the backrest disposed above the mount sleeves of the armrests (Fig. 3). Chadwick et al, shows that uprights includes a plurality of holes, channel or slot (74,80) in order to allow the armrests and backrest to be selectively positioned along each upright.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 21-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chadwick et al in view of Albright et al (6,705,678). Chadwick shows all of the teachings of the claimed invention except the use of a plurality of holes mounted on the uprights which are selectively engaged by a pin of a lever. Albright et al. shows the conventional use of a plurality of holes (37) located on a pair of substantial vertical uprights (14) which are selectively engaged by a pin (56) of a lever (36) located on a respective mounting sleeve (28). Albright further teaches that the lever is biased by a biasing member (38). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the uprights and sleeves of Chadwick et al., with the teachings of Albright et al., in order to allow for a quick lock/release of the sleeves at discrete positions along vertical uprights to accommodate users of different heights.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-17 and 31-37 are allowed over the prior art made of record.

Response to Arguments

6. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., separate means for independently positioning the armrests and backrests along the uprights as the means could in fact adjust both the armrest and backrest independently along the uprights) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Art Unit: 3636

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
